Ramsey S. Black, state director, Pennsylvania Savings Bonds Division, announced that the total E, F and G bond sales for the State of Pennsylvania during the month of February 1950 reached $41,695,478. This is an increase over total sales during February 1949 which were $40,366,099.

"It is most gratifying to note that there was an increase in the purchase of the popular series E Savings Bond throughout the State of more than a million dollars for February 1950 as compared with February 1949," said Black, "and, in view of the recent strikes and labor difficulties which have so gravely affected the financial status of the citizens of our State and Nation, I feel it is a record of which we in Pennsylvania may be proud."

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

This country's Asiatic policy was defined yesterday by Secretary Acheson as not a negative aim to check the spread of communism but as a positive policy of aid to the wide Asiatic revolution against poverty and foreign domination and yearning for national independence. In support of that policy, he said in San Francisco, we are ready to give economic help to those countries with a stable government and a real desire for freedom.

The Soviet Union, Mr. Acheson said, has perverted to its own imperialistic aims Asia's urge for independence, and he warned the Chinese Communists not to attempt "aggressive or subversive adventures beyond their borders." President Truman endorsed Mr. Acheson's speech.

Washington is seriously considering joint economic, political and military policy in Asia with other interested nations, not along the lines of the North Atlantic Treaty but as assurance of common action. India declined a Philippine invitation to an Asiatic conference on ways to combat the Communist menace. China's worst famine in 72 years is adding to the difficulties of the Peiping regime.

Insure Television Sets

Mr. Leon Plavin is happy to announce the completion of arrangements with the Home Insurance Co., New York City, through the office of the Penn Realty Co., for insuring television sets sold at his store, Auto Boys, against fire and theft. Monday's Bristol Courier carried a news article saying that nine television sets had been reported stolen in this area, in a recent period and Mr. Plavin deemed the insurance step advisable and necessary so that the people would not suffer a loss.

Incidentally, it might be mentioned here that Auto Boys has the serial number of every set that they have sold.

Customers of Auto Boys who purchased TV sets in the past can have this insurance, Mr. Plavin states, simply by stopping in the store and paying a very nominal fee.

This is the fourth in a series of articles describing America's "ten most wanted" fugitive criminals, as listed for INS by the FBI.

By James Lee
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16 — (INS) — FBI officials consider William Raymond Nesbit one of the most dangerous criminals alive because of the vicious nature of his crime—cold-blooded murder and attempted "murder by dynamite."

A $37,000 jewel robbery at Sioux City, Iowa, on New Year's Eve, 1936, led to Nesbit's conviction for murder.

Nesbit and two accomplices shot and killed one Harold Baker and severely wounded a woman for fear the two victims would implicate them in the jewel robbery. The FBI reports:

"To complete the job on the still living woman and to destroy the evidence of murder, the three men placed the couple in a powder house some five miles east of Sioux Falls, S. D.

"There, in a scene rivaling the most lurid movie melodrama, they ignited a fuse leading to 3,500 pounds of dynamite and 7,000 pounds of black powder.

"Although victim Baker was blown to bits, the woman, true to

DR. ROSCOE W. TEAHAN POINTS OUT SIGNS AND SYMPTOMS OF CANCER IN ILLUSTRATED TALK; URGES TREATMENT IN PRIMARY STAGES

A highly-enlightening address, in which information on signs, symptoms and treatment of cancer was given, was delivered by Dr. Roscoe W. Teahan, Philadelphia cancer surgeon, in Bristol high school auditorium yesterday afternoon.

Faculty members, pupils of the more advanced grades, and the general public were invited to hear Dr. Teahan yesterday, his talk being illustrated with natural color slides. Mrs. Minerva Epstein, of Bucks County Tuberculosis and Health Society, who was presented to the gathering by David Hertzler, high school principal, introduced the speaker.

In order to provide a "perspective," Dr. Teahan informed that cancer, "one of the three great killers" (the others being heart disease and tuberculosis) causes death for 180,000 to 200,000 persons in the United States yearly. "These people are mainly in the group past 35 or 40, but cancer does occur in childhood and has been found occasionally in the new-born baby. As age increases one becomes more likely to have the disease," informed the surgeon. "Cancer is such a personal disease. Unless you know something about it, it may sneak up on you." The speaker warned against undue alarm, however, expressing the hope that "by knowing the early signs you will do something about it, rather than wait until you are so uncomfortable you are forced to go to the doctor."

That cancer is usually curable in its early stages was one point to which emphasis was given, although this is not the case in advanced stages. "Cancer cells do not obey the rules of growth. They keep on dividing until they are commanding most of the food the body gets, and the rest of the body starves. Cancer is at first usually localized. The cells may stay in that one spot a few days, several months or even years. But in time the cells become detached and travel through the lymphatics and cause secondary cancer."

Then added Dr. Teahan: "If we can get the patients to us in the primary stages of cancer we can often cure them." At this juncture, by means of films the speaker pointed out signs and symptoms of various types of cancer, informing in some of the cases depicted that every reason is assured for complete cure. The films showed cancer of the mouth, eye, neck, forehead, nose, intestinal tract, etc.

The surgeon told that skin cancer manifests itself as an ulcer or lump. He was careful, however, to stress the fact that similar signs and symptoms may be those of disease or ailment other than cancer. "Cancer of the skin is more apt to occur on uncovered parts of the

AT LANGHORNE P.T.A.

LANGHORNE, Mar. 16—A record crowd heard the Langhorne-Middle-town PTA open a lively discussion on the subject of borough consolidation at its March meeting last Tuesday evening. Two members of the Langhorne Manor Borough Council, T. R. James and William Rumpf, Jr., attended the meeting, but only as members of the audience.

Walter Weir, PTA president, detailed the attempts of the PTA executive committee to have council members take part in the discussion. Mr. Weir read the original letter of invitation, in which it was emphasized that the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the advantages or disadvantages of general consolidation. "Despite this," said Mr. Weir, "three of the council members replied that they were not interested and the Pennell borough council and the Middletown Board of Supervisors ignored the PTA's invitation completely."

Said Mr. Weir, "There are some people in town who believe borough consolidation is advisable. There are others who believe it is inadvisable. There are more of us who are unable to make up our minds whether it is advisable or inadvisable—we do not know enough about it. The only way we can learn about it is to hear the subject discussed."

John Mladjen, recently appointed executive director of the Citizens' Planning Committee of Philadelphia, gave a resume of the reasons why borough consolidation should be considered.

MANY SHOW INTEREST

It was decided to set-up an organization separate from the Bristol Recreation Board to handle the school-yard playground project here this summer. The decision was reached at a meeting held last evening in the municipal building called by Burgess I. J. Hetherington to discuss the playground subject. A separate organization was thought advisable as the Recreation Board is an organization whose funds for operation are provided by appropriation made by borough council and all its expenses of operation are paid through the borough treasurer.

The organization formed last night was designated as a temporary one. Joseph Spradno was named chairman. Henry Kornstedt was elected secretary and Nicholas Gillardi was selected as treasurer.

Mr. Spradno, in accepting the chairmanship, told the group that it is necessary that the organization get started on the "right footing." He said after the meeting that today he will contact members of the Bristol School Board, and the members of the Bristol Recreation Board to meet Monday evening in the municipal building at eight o'clock to further consider plans.

He also told the group that he will name various committees, representative of the town in general, and that later another public meeting will be called, so that the work can be allocated to those who are interested.

BRISTOL TERRACE I. MAN CARVES OUT FINE PLASTIC DESIGNS AS HIS SPARETIME HOBBY

The following article concerning G. W. Nicodemus, 25 Schumacher Drive, Bristol Terrace I, appeared in the March 19th issue of Plastico, a publication of the Plastico Corporation's house organ, Tandemear.

Internal carving is the intricate and fascinating hobby of G. W. Nicodemus, Naval Inspector. This hobby involves fashioning earrings, pins, wall plaques and an assortment of household objects from plastic materials, plexiglass or lucite, with a specially tapered drill.

Small and dainty floral designs are carved into a plastic base and are dyed a variety of colors with liquid dye. Roses, lilies-of-the-valley and forget-me-nots are favorite flowers used.

The procedure is an exacting one. The plexiglass used in his work is bought by the square foot, from 1/16 to 2 1/2 inches thick. The drill used in carving is held in place with a chuck and a flexible shaft attached to a motor. The point of the small No. 5 drill must be guided to a point with a cutting edge.

Then the carving begins. Designs are created by Inspector Nick himself. He seldom uses real flowers or pictures as models. The minute and careful shaping of the design is done by holding the drill on the under side of the plastic piece as the detailed cutting of the flower petals and leaves is worked.

After the completion of the carving

TUG BOAT CREW AIDS

FLORENCE, N. J., Mar. 16—A Florence Township patrolman and two other men were rescued from the Delaware river yesterday afternoon by volunteer firemen and a tugboat crew.

Pulled to safety after tossing for almost a half-hour in the icy water were William Molnar, 28, of 215 Broad street, Florence, a Roebing Company employee; Wilbur Sayres, 35, of 243 Front street, Florence, a foundry worker, and Patrolman Edward Schaffe, 39.

Molnar was tossed overboard when his rowboat, powered by an outboard motor, capsized in mid-stream, opposite the Florence Pipe Foundry & Machine Co. Dressed in heavy clothing and wearing boots, Molnar found himself unable to swim effectively and screamed for help, while clinging to the overturned craft.

Sayres, in his home which abuts the river, heard Molnar's cries and called police. Schaffe responded and the pair put out in a rowboat in an effort to rescue Molnar. They had almost reached the scene when a sudden gust of wind overturned their craft.

Meanwhile, Florence Police Chief David Earley summoned the emergency squad of the Florence Fire Company No. 1. A boat with an outboard motor, manned by Albert Deets, David Wolfe and John Cook, pulled Molnar from the water and took him to the foundry's emergency station, where he was treated by Dr. Milton Schiller. Later, he was sent home.

The tug Taurus, captained by Frank Pursell, of Morrisville, bore down on Sayres and Schaffe. Pursell, his brother, Clinton, and Howard Geddas pulled the pair to safety and took them to the Florence fire house for treatment by Dr. Kenneth

The taxpayer who has improperly filled out his income tax form in this last minute rush need not give it a second thought. . . he'll hear from it.

That's why they call it a "tax return" if the Government doesn't like it they can always return it for more taxes.

The President sent his return in early then went off to Key West to forget . . . The first day out it was so rough he also forgot to eat.

You can imagine how rough it was when a reporter heard him murmur "If Dewey had won I wouldn't be here."

Another reporter said to one of his Generals "Why don't you take your sea-sick pills?" He said "How can I . . . they beat ME to the rail."

This is one of the few times in history that a fellow with $150,000 income has felt worse than a fellow with a $1,500 income on tax day.

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 16—Reaching an agreement before the trial got underway, Judge Fred W. Davis, Stroudsburg, yesterday directed a jury to render a verdict for $5,500, without costs, in favor of Charles Umstead, Langhorne, administrator of the estate of Arthur Umstead, deceased.

The defendants are Frank Hammond and William Kay, Jr., both of Langhorne.

Arthur Umstead was killed Nov. 22, 1947, while riding in Hammond's car which failed to make the turn at the "T" intersection of Hulmeville and Newportville roads.

Kay's car followed Hammond's car into the meadow and stopped with Umstead's body lying in front of the left rear wheel.

Hammond and Kay were convicted of involuntary manslaughter in criminal court Feb. 25, 1948. Trooper Duane C. Allen, of the Langhorne sub-station, investigated the two-car tragedy of youths who were said to have been "joy-riding" after a visit to taprooms.

LAST CUSTER SOLDIER

Another tie linking the present to the Wild West — the West of Indian wars, wagon trains and gold rushes — has been severed with the death of Charles A. Windolph at the age of 98 in Lead, S. D. Windolph, oldest holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, was the last survivor of the Battle of the Little Big Horn in Montana in 1876.

In that fight, ever since referred to as "Custer's Last Stand," Gen. George A. Custer and five companies of the Seventh Cavalry were wiped out and seven companies under Maj. Marcus Reno stood off thousands of Sioux and Cheyenne warriors for two days until reinforcements arrived.

Windolph was in Captain Benteen's H Company under Reno, and was wounded in the battle.

Windolph, promoted to first sergeant on the battle field on the bluffs of the Little Big Horn, served in the Seventh Cavalry for 12 years, participating in the Custer expedition to the Black Hills in 1874 which discovered gold and resulted in the gold rush of 1876. After leaving the Army he worked for 49 years for the Homestake gold mine in Lead, the largest in the United States.

Windolph not only saw the West at its wildest, he made a real contribution to its settlement. In his passing the curtain is rung down. Not one of the 600 men who rode with Custer to the banks of the little river in Montana remains alive, but their names are inscribed indelibly in the heroic history of the Seventh Cavalry.

REQUEST APPROVED

Prices generally are moving slowly downward again, according to the indexes, despite recent increases in some industries where new wage contracts have been negotiated — steel and coal, to name two. The curve may be somewhat deceptive, however, because some of the effects of inflation have been delayed for one reason or another.

A reminder of this fact is the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the application of the Railway Express Agency for a 10 per cent increase in rates covering general merchandise, food and other perishables.
This increase — the commission approved the request — is the third granted since the war ended. Like the others, it is the direct result of higher costs caused by inflation.

The Railway Express doubtless would have preferred to keep its rate stable, if that had been feasible, but like any other business it must meet expenses and make a profit. It had to get more income.

So another weight has been thrown on the side of a high price level. It is not likely to be the last.

Scientists say sound may now be sent by mail. As if there wasn't noise enough already.

It is alleged squirrels and ants no longer store up food. Are they depending upon Washington, too?

In reference to Mr. Harris' report:

"He talked of the Bristol Borough-Township water contract as being one sided with the township supplying the initial capital investment of $80,000 in 1934. Of this bonded indebtedness approximately $40,000 has been retired with money

Dr. Teahan Points Out Cancer Signs, Symptoms

skin" was one fact listed. "Cancer of the skin sometimes occurs in more than one area; while cancer inside the body generally starts in one area. If a wart or mole starts to grow suddenly, look into the matter." The initial signs and symptoms of cancer within the body vary, he added, depending upon where the ailment occurs. The audience was told that in 90 per cent of the cases of cancer of the breast, a lump is the first sign noted. "But remember, all lumps or ulcers are not signs of cancer; oftentimes they are benign."

Continuing, Dr. Teahan stated: "Cancer proceeds to kill its host unless the host does something about it." He went into slight detail regarding symptoms of cancer of the kidneys and urinary tract (passage of blood); cancer of stomach, "on which type we can give the least information, although persistent indigestion is sometimes a sign. However, persistent indigestion is oftentimes due to hyperacidity or ulcers." Pain was listed as a relatively early symptom of cancer of the large intestines, and the men and women were informed that cancer of the small intestines is rare. "Curability rate of cancer of the large intestines is relatively high," was one comment by the guest.

Sign of lung cancer was listed as oftentimes being a persistent cough with no mucus raised; and cancer of the womb manifestation unusual discharge. The curability rate for this type was also listed as good.

Some consideration was given to types of treatment — surgery, X-ray, electric needle and radium. "Cure depends upon complete destruction of all cancer cells in the body," added the surgeon. "As far as atomic medication is concerned, one type of cancer that seems to respond well to such is cancer of the thyroid gland, radio-activated iodine being used in some instances. But so far we have little to report along this line."

Superintendent of Bristol schools, Warren P. Snyder, in expressing appreciation to Dr. Teahan and Mrs. Epstein for presenting the enlightening program, said: "We know it is a battle that must be waged with education and understanding."

der have painted scenes of Holland on the blackboards. Stories appropriate to the study of Holland have created a desire to become better acquainted with people in foreign lands.

Tulips are being made of construction paper, and the boys suggested planting tulips in the school grounds as soon as weather permits.

Girls and boys of Laurel Bend fourth grade are "absorbing" Dutch customs, much as the Puritan children did when living in Holland, before coming to America on the "Mayflower." Pupils have decided to gather folders from Travel Agencies; write letters to fourth graders in Holland and thus take a trip in fancy.

Miss Hoffman, of Macmillan Co., was a visitor in the fourth grade at Laurel Bend. She gave the pupils a demonstration reading lesson. The pupils were pleased to learn the many ways of learning to pronounce a new word.

Mrs. Glenda C. Glassmire, one of the kindergarten teachers, is now a resident of Bristol Township. She and her family have moved into their new home on Belmont avenue, Croydon Manor.

Kindergarten children are inquisitive and imaginative. Their curiosity is stimulated through stories read and told, and through group discussion. One day last week, the poem "The Gingham Dog and the Calico Cat" was read to them. After much discussion, they decided to illustrate the poem. They have been very busy and excited painting and coloring a frieze in the school hall.

Croydon boys and girls are elated over addition of 52 books to their already sizeable library. This library is not a library in name only, but is a source of enjoyment and pleasure for all of the children.

The library is taken care of by librarians chosen from the sixth grade. These young folks take pride in the books, keep them in repair and are always watchful for mislaid or forgotten books. They have enlisted a system whereby they collect fines on overdue books.

These fines are used to help buy more books for the library and to repair those books which are worn. At present time there is a colorful display of new books. Some of the titles which seem to appeal particularly to the children are: Indian Legends of American Scenes, Funny Bunny Book, Ships That Made American History, Life of Buffalo Bill, Teen-Age Baseball, The Little Rabbit Who Wanted Red Wings.

Five books were added to the "Childhood of Famous American Series." The children are eagerly awaiting the time when they can borrow these books from the library and enjoy the wealth of pleasure therein.

Research work on South American countries has taken on new interest in the Croydon sixth grade as they receive answers to requests to air lines, fruit companies, and travel bureaus for material. They now have a wealth of material on hand which will make their study of South America more interesting. They have colorful posters, maps showing products, recipes for using bananas, (these they took home to their mothers) also material on the history of coffee.

Croydon first grade had a happy time going home from school on Thursday. They had made kites in school from colored paper and decorated them with designs of all kinds. The weather was very agreeable and the wind blew the kites higher and higher.

the prestige gained through membership in the National Honor Society, pointing out its importance as she told of meeting in her travels a number of people who were members.

A dance to recordings was conducted by the varsity in the "gym" on Saturday evening from eight until midnight.

Accompanied by guidance counselor John Burris, four boys from Bristol high attended a career conference at Temple University, Phila. and luncheon in Mitten hall, that city, on Saturday.

Frances Turek, Karl Elcenko, Frank Rich, and Robert Lewis, all of 12th grade, made the jaunt, each boy attending two conferences. Forty-five minutes each was given to discussion of the following: government service, physics, chemistry, engineering, industrial arts, the ministry.

With pupil participation, a panel discussion was conducted in a joint assembly of ninth grade home-rooms of Bristol borough and Bristol township junior high school at Bristol high on Monday.

Arranged by John Burris, who served as moderator, the discussion featured "Problems of Growing Up." Under this general heading came: Clothes, taking responsibility, getting along with people, and gaining friends.

Bristol 9th grade pupils taking part were: Ruth Ellen Cox, Jerry Costantini, Lewis DiNunzio and Thomas Pearson. The following from Bristol township were accompanied to the high school by Miss Edna Pennypacker, a faculty member: Gertrude DeKoye, Joan Fries, Eleanor Gilmore, Lester Gibbs, Robert Kaizer, "Peggy" Packard, and Doris Plowman.

Two representatives from the Social Security board, Philadelphia, will arrive at Bristol high at 9:45 this morning. They will discuss the plan of Social Security with the seniors, and conduct question and answer periods. One hour will be spent by the guests with each senior section. Mr. Cairn will be in charge.

On the same day J. V. Vandeventer, of General Motors Corp., (Trenton, N. J.), will speak to any senior boys interested in pursuing education in engineering or business administration under the G. M. Institute.

Also today there will be conducted by Juniata College a testing program for all interested seniors. Juniata gives all senior students an opportunity through scholarship examinations to be tested in college aptitude.

Pennsbury District

Fifty-eight boys of the Automobile Mechanics Club of the high school made a trip to Linden, N. J., yesterday to tour the Ford and General Motors plants. They were accompanied by Thomas Greene and Joseph Rohrbach, faculty members.

With a National Honor Society being instituted for the first time at Pennsbury, charter members will be initiated tomorrow evening in Makefield school auditorium.

Students from Pennington, N. J., high school, will make the trip to Makefield school to help with the ceremony.

Charter members total 25, and the society advisor is Miss Mary Dwyer. An all-school party will follow.

Monologue is Feature For Hulmeville P. T. A.

HULMEVILLE, Mar. 16 — The business meeting of Hulmeville-Middletown Parent-Teacher Association, held in the school house, last evening, was a brief one. Fred Herrmann was the presiding officer.

The program for the evening consisted of a monologue in three parts, entitled "Table for Four," presented by Mrs. Ruth Tybeskey, representing the Philadelphia Dairy Council. The monologue, the scene for which was a restaurant dining room, was capably presented by Mrs. Tybeskey, and much enjoyed by the membership. Mrs. Tybeskey, who was introduced by Jesse Daugherty, explained that the Philadelphia Dairy Council is a non-profit health organization. During school sessions yesterday other representatives of the same council provided programs for the pupils at the schools. For grades one, two and three, there was an illustrated story "Billy Box," and for grades four, five and six a circus was much enjoyed, this being arranged for pupil participation.

At the P. T. A. session, attended by 27, Miss Margaret Perry read minutes of the February meeting; and Dr. N. P. Larson gave the treasurer's report, showing a balance of $221.29. Since the last report, government reimbursement checks had been received, covering milk for four months and cafeteria supplies for three months.

Principal Frank Binder reported that 1978 meals had been served the pupils in the cafeteria from Feb. 16th to March 15th, or a daily average of 63.7.

Jesse Daugherty, one of those named to contact Middletown school board to request that a kindergarten be established by that board, reported there appear no hopes for such. The explanation given by Middletown board, according to Mr. Daugherty, is that the Langhorne Manor kindergarten is expected to be closed next term; and that if the need arises in Pennel for additional space for other grades, possibly it will be necessary to utilize the kindergarten room there for other grades. It was further explained that the proposed expansion program for the districts includes plans for grades one to 12 only.

Ross Buckman, one of those named to contact Hulmeville school board regarding a kindergarten, stated that directors were "very receptive to the idea, and will do all in their power to establish a kindergarten for Hulmeville children next year."

He added that it is felt possible that some plan might be worked out with Pennel district.

Progress was reported by committee named to request the school board to provide better insulation about the heater and to build a fire door in the basement. Mr. Buckman reported that pipe is being cut for playground equipment, and will soon be ready to haul to this borough.

Members were informed that William Scheffey will serve as Cub master for the Cub Scouts being organized in this area.

The attendance banner went to grade one. This grade, taught by Mrs. Charlotte Walsh, made the place mats and decorations for the tables and walls of the cafeteria where refreshments were served last evening. These included shams, pipes, hats, harps for St. Patrick's season. Pistachio ice cream, home-made cakes, pretzels, coffee, tea, and candy were served by Mrs. Harry Beck, Mrs. Jesse Daugherty and Mrs. Earl Foster.

Bristol Terrace I. Man Carves Fine Plastic Designs

ing, the design is dyed. Basic colors in a liquid dye are diluted and combined to give the desired shade. Most of the carvings include red, white, yellow or pink flowers with the green leaves.

The cavity made into the plastic comprising the design is filled with plaster-of-paris after the dyeing. Colored plexiglass covers the back of the carving. It is usually black to bring out colors and dimensional qualities of the finished flower.

The article is then buffed to a glossy finish. Backings, be it for earrings, pins or wall plaques, complete the process.

The rose is the most difficult to carve because of the intricacies of the petals and is the most popular. "People always like roses," says Nick.

Three years ago the Naval Inspector, who has been with PHC since Sharon Hill days, was attracted by some pieces of "internal carving" and decided to give it a try.

With almost no available instructions, either from literature or other carvers, and no previous experience in carving or modeling, he set about his task. It was on a trial and error basis. On the first attempt, the point of the drill punctured the outside of the plastic, which still happens to the best. Then there is nothing to do but throw the piece away and begin again. Nick's work is done in a small workshop in his Bristol home.

Wall plaque construction is based upon the same procedure of carving as the various pieces of jewelry.

The plaques are larger and are oval and rectangular. The oval pictures are six inches in diameter and the rectangular, six by eight. These are floral bouquets.

Company in the Nicodemus household is exceptionally lucky! Friends who particularly commend a picture will frequently receive it as a present. Mrs. Nicodemus has first priority on her husband's work. Rarely is any piece sold.

Perhaps the most outstanding bit of craftsmanship to come from the workshop is a miniature grandfather's clock. It has been requested that this be made for sale, but Nick "just doesn't have the time." The clock stands about eight inches high and is not more than two and a half inches wide.

He has made many things for his home—various shelves, a night light with the carved roses, and a whatnot with two shelves and a mirror in the back, complete with decorative twistings of the plastic.

His is indeed a hobby where art and precision must be equally skilled.

A&P Makes Only Penny Per Pound On Coffee

WASHINGTON, Mar. 16 — The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company has made only slightly more than a penny a pound profit before taxes on its coffee sales the past two years, a Senate Sub-Committee investigating coffee prices was told today.

Francis M. Kurtz, president of A&P's Coffee Division and its affiliated American Coffee Corporation, informed the committee that in the two-year period ended Feb. 25, the Food Store Chain had an identical net profit in each year of 1.05 cents per pound before taxes.

The period covered included the last few months of 1949 and the early part of this year when sharp rises in coffee prices caused the committee to undertake the current investigation.

Mr. Kurtz told the committee what A&P has done to keep the price of its coffee at relatively low levels, often 20 cents or more per pound lower than the retail price of other coffees.

The coffee official, a veteran of 28 years in the industry, said the company's one-cent margin "is the total profit A&P receives for procuring and processing the green coffee, importing, roasting, packing, transporting, grinding and retailing it to the American consumer who buys it in our stores."

"To my knowledge," he said, "this is the first time A&P has ever divulged its profit per pound of coffee, and I am personally sorry that it has not been done before as it is an accomplishment of which any company in any country can be rightfully proud."

A&P's coffee is "priced much lower than other brands" for two reasons, Mr. Kurtz said.

"The first lies in A&P's business philosophy—that we should sell the best possible food at the lowest possible prices," he said. "The second is found in our method of buying, processing and retailing coffee."

By distributing its own coffee in its own stores which have built up a steady day-to-day demand, he said, A&P is able to schedule its buying and processing operations in an orderly, efficient manner.

"We do not take a speculative position at any time," he said. "Nor do we do any hedging, nor have any transactions on any coffee exchange."

We simply buy green coffee, import it, roast and pack it, and supply our stores with enough to take care of the demands of our customers."

When prices began to soar, he said, A&P had two alternatives. One was to sell its coffee without increases until stocks were exhausted and then boost prices as much as 25 cents a pound overnight on the basis of the higher replacement costs.

"The second alternative was to move up in price to a level well below replacement cost," he said, "and hold that price until any abnormal pickup on our inventory was entirely handed back to the consumer."

Mr. Kurtz said A&P chose the second method and thus was able to keep increases on its three brands to a minimum. He said today's A&P prices on its Boker, Red Circle and Eight O'Clock brands at 72, 70 and 67 cents per pound respectively "are still below replacement costs."

There is little immediate prospect of a tumble in coffee prices, Mr. Kurtz said.

"It can be stated definitely," he said, "that if demand continues at or near the 1949 rate, prices will remain at or near the present level."

Looking further ahead, he said that if there "is a good flowering (of the coffee plant) in Brazil in September-October of this year, the market will undoubtedly weaken even though the coffee resulting from the flowering will not be available until July, 1951, just as the market rose in October-November of last year based on a poor flowering."

"After that, while it is difficult to make any definite prediction regarding agricultural products," he continued, "it would seem that new production will come into bearing which should take care of future demand at more reasonable prices."

Mr. Kurtz assured the committee that when A&P can buy coffee at lower prices in Brazil, Colombia and other producing areas it "will retail that coffee to the American consumer at lower prices."

The principal factor behind the sharp rise in coffee prices last October and November was the "severe drought" in Brazil last August and September when good rains were needed to produce flowering, he said.

Other important factors in the price hike, he said, were the change in the buyer-seller relationship which stemmed from the drought and "consumer hoarding" which started in October and lasted through the second or third week of November.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that the rise in green (coffee bean) prices in October-November was too rapid in view of the rains which came late in October and which will produce a fair crop in Brazil for 1950-51."

He added, however, that he felt present prices in any case "might have been reached by April or May of this year through a more gradual advance from September through May."

be considered at this time. He displayed charts showing population increases, planned highways for the area and other pertinent factors. He disclosed, for example, that the greatest population increase expected between now and 1980 is expected in this particular area—an increase of 300 per cent. “The world does not stand still,” said Mr. Mladjen. “Even neighborhoods are not static. Either you and I, as rational human beings, must take a look at what this community will be twenty or thirty years from now and plan for orderly progress or be forced into it by the force of events.” Mr. Mladjen said that “the population of Philadelphia is declining—it is moving to the outskirts. New industries are bringing and will bring new residents to this area. These people have been accustomed to modern conveniences and will demand them here and we cannot provide such conveniences as small and isolated boroughs.”

Following Mr. Mladjen's talk the meeting was thrown open to questions from the audience. At this point, Mr. Jones asserted that the various borough councils were not empowered to bring about consolidation—such a move must be brought about by the general public. Mr. Weir stated that that was the purpose of the meeting—to acquaint the public with the facts about consolidation so that it could act intelligently.

Mrs. Harry Ridge said that consolidation need not mean the submerging of the personalities of the various segments of the area—they could still retain their individuality but be able to accomplish more by acting in concert. Mr. Heizman, as a member of the school board, said he appreciated the interest that the PTA was arousing in public issues and felt it was the duty of any elected public official to present himself to discuss such issues before bodies like the PTA. Mr. Heizman also said he felt there was a definite need for all residents of the area to be acquainted with the issues involved.

Josephine Babesh and Joyce Longnecker gave the PTA a report of the progress of the Youth Center, which the PTA offered to sponsor at its January meeting. They announced that the Youth Center is now not only a going concern but already has $75 in its treasury.

Mr. Weir cut off the discussion at 9:30, in conformity with the PTA's policy of not holding protracted meetings, and for the purpose of appointing a nominating committee to select officers for the 1950-1951 PTA season. In doing so, he stated that he had been urged to make himself available for a third term as president, but felt that the PTA was much more important as an organization than the officers running it and sincerely felt it would

SEMI-FINAL GAMES TO BE PLAYED TONIGHT ON HIGH SCHOOL COURT IN BRISTOL BASKETBALL LEAGUE

The semi-finals of the Bristol Basketball League will take place tonight on the high school court. In the opening tilt, the Franklin A. C. quintet will meet the Tullytown five while in the second encounter, Profy's meets the Hibernians. First tap-off is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

Franklin finished runner-up during the regular season race while Tullytown ended in fourth place. Franklin barely lost the title in a tieoff game with Profy, being beaten by two points. The season record of the Tullytown team does not justify its playing ability. The Tullytowners only won six games but lost more one-point and two-point games than any team in the circuit.

Manager Bert Harbetta will use the following in his starting lineup: "Bill" Wallick, "Dezzy" Delase, Stan Leffinski, "Rabbit" Palumbo, and "Toby" Oriola. Other eligible Franklin players are: Howard Keys, Peter DeLuca, "Lou" D'Andrea, "Lou" Mari, and Manager Harbetta.

Eligible to play with the Profy team are: John Pindar, Henry Koncuf, Val Bielecki, Jack Hansen, Roy Natale, Alan Burton, Bert Miles, Don Lang, Anthony Mama, and Tom Profy.

Manager "Pete" Harkins, of the Hibs, has the following players eligible to play: Tom Donnelly.

John Rodgers, Horace Saxton, William Eunis, Charles Simmons, Joe Elmer, Joe Roe, Joe McDevitt, James Sackville, William Burr. A player must participate in at least four games during the season to be eligible for the playoffs, according to the league rules.

Tomorrow night on the high school floor, the Bristol High Senior team, plus Coaches Jerry Bloom and Harry McClister, will play the regular season champions of the league, the Profy team. In the first game at 7:30 o'clock, the league's regular season runner-up, the Franklin contingent, will play Souderton A. A.

Fisherman's Dream

Just twenty minutes to make a catch like this—that's any fisherman's dream. But more than that, these fish were caught in his bare hands. They're silver grunion, a small member of the smelt family, which come up on dry land to lay their eggs. The fantastic story of the grunion, plus other unusual facts of nature, are portrayed in "Dust or Destiny," scientific film to be shown in the Calvary Baptist Church, Saturday, March 18, at 7:45 p. m.

Verdict Returned Favoring Barnett

when the cycle and an automobile driven by LaPenta, collided at the intersection. Barnett was injured and taken to Harriman Hospital, Bristol, for treatment for three fractured toes on the right foot, an injury to his right hand and right foot. X-rays were later taken at Nazareth Hospital, Philadelphia.

The plaintiff testified that he was discharged from the hospital about three hours after being treated. He told the court and jury he was going about 35 miles an hour when he approached the intersection. The plaintiff stated that as a result of the accident he lost a $72-per-week job. The plaintiff was operating his cycle on Bristol Pike and the defendant on Bridgewater road.

Attorney Monroe, for the defendant, moved for a voluntary nonsuit, but the motion was denied by Judge Davis and an exception was allowed the defendant.

Mrs. Louise Hallowell, of Danboro, proprietress of a motorcycle sales agency in that village, was called as a plaintiff witness to relate the various prices of parts needed to repair the plaintiff's cycle, which was purchased from her agency in 1948.

Louis Yeager, a mechanic at the cycle agency, testified that the plaintiff's vehicle was worth $600 before the accident and $200 after the accident.

The defense of LaPenta was that he is not answerable to the plain-tiff's accusations and that the plaintiff himself was responsible for the accident.

When a Philadelphia couple, now in California and suing a Trenton motorist for $1,000, failed to attend Civil Court, here, Monday morning, President Judge Hiram H. Keller allowed a compulsory nonsuit because of non-appearance of the plaintiff.

The case is unique since it is probably the first time in a long time in civil court that a plaintiff failed to show up for his trial.

Theodore Levine and Ida Levine, 6025 Larchwood avenue, Philadelphia, now of California, are suing John Toth, 1314 Genesee street, Trenton, N. J., in an action in trespass growing out of an accident March 28, 1948, near Trevose. The two plaintiffs were seeking $1,000.

A second case, growing out of the same accident, in which Stephen Toth, father of the defendant in the first case, who was suing Theodore Levine for $284.20, was settled.

The plaintiff, Stephen Toth, in the second case, was driving his father, John Toth's car when it figured in the two-car accident.

In the Orphans Court, Judge Edward G. Biester handed down an opinion in the case of the estate of Washington Atlee Burpee, deceased, sur audit of the first and final accounts of David Burpee and W. Atlee Burpee, Jr., trustees for Blanche S. Burpee under deed of trust dated Nov. 30, 1917, in which he ruled the exceptions filed on behalf of David Burpee and W. Atlee Burpee, Jr., are dismissed and the auditor's report, including the conclusion of law, is approved.

COMMANDANT OPPOSES LOW, STUNT FLYING*Asks Cooperation Of The Public In Carefully
Reporting On Such*MENACE TO POPULACE

WILLOW GROVE, Mar. 16 — It has been made clear by Capt. C. B. Jones, commandant of the U. S. Naval Air Station, near here, that he is as much opposed to low flying and stunting by pilots as are farmers and other residents of Bucks and adjoining counties.

Commenting on the subject after the matter was broached at a recent meeting of Pineville Grange, the captain stated:

"I would like to make it clear that the 'farm body' is not alone in its opposition to low flying aircraft. As commanding officer of the Naval Air Station, Willow Grove, I am charged with the conduct of aircraft attached to that station and further charged with carrying out the directives and policies of the Navy, and it is my duty to investigate all reports of aircraft flying unnecessarily low or in a manner that endangers or causes annoyance to the public.

"If, as result of such investigation, it has been determined that a pilot is guilty of violation of flight regulations, he shall be punished if attached to this command. If a civilian pilot or a pilot attached to some other military command is reported, the information will be passed on to the cognizant civil or military authorities for their action.

"In order to insure elimination of aerial nuisances, complete cooperation of the public is necessary. It should be obvious that identification of the aircraft is essential. All aircraft carry identification letters and numbers prominently displayed on wings, tail or fuselage. For positive identification, both numbers and letters are essential. However, partial identification such as color, type or prominent features can sometimes lead to positive identity. Field glasses can be of great help. Recently a civilian obtained identification of one of our aircraft by that method and it was determined that though the aircraft was complying with legal altitude requirements, it was stunting in an area where such maneuvers are prohibited. The pilot is no longer flying.

"Reports of aircraft believed to be flying unnecessarily low or dangerously should be made to the Operations Officer at Naval Air Station, Willow Grove by phone or to the Commanding Officer by letter."

GAS MAIN SYSTEM RAPIDLY COMPLETED

"Gas For Bristol" Graphically Tells of New System To Supply Area

POSING OF PROBLEMS

"Gas for Bristol" is the title of an article appearing in the March issue of the "Current News," a publication of Philadelphia Electric Company. The article, liberally illustrated with Bucks County scenes, tells how during the latter part of 1949 the gas department installed a system of new gas mains in the eastern division to bolster its supply to the lower Bucks County area, "and to accommodate a new industrial customer in Bristol, whose daily use is estimated at $5,000 cubic feet an hour."

It is graphically told how the job was completed in record time. To show how various methods of crossing streams were resorted to by the company's gas transmission and distribution forces, a picture of the bridge over the Nesaminy Creek on the old Lincoln highway near Trevoise, appears. The railroad crossing at Knights bridge in Trevoise is pictured. This bridge presented a problem. It was stated, which was overcome by attaching to the bridge a 12-inch gas main, "an important link in the reinforced system to Bristol and other lower Bucks County areas." The various methods of digging trenches to lay the new mains in the enlarged service are portrayed by means of the camera lens.

The article stated in part: "The company's advance planning called for construction of new pipe lines to reinforce the lower Bucks County area to be completed in 1953. The opening of a new industry in Bristol, scheduled for operation late in 1949, justified a revision of the original expansion program."

"After careful study and consideration, the gas department's plan called for the laying of 20 gas-main-miles of new construction from the termination of an existing 12-inch high pressure steel main in Rydal, through Bryn Athyn, Somerton, and along the Old Lincoln highway to Trevoise. From that point, two new mains were laid, one along Street Road to an existing gas main at Eddington, and the other along Lincoln highway to an existing main at Pennel. In Bristol, the existing mains were replaced with larger capacity mains. The new network establishes a stronger and more flexible system of gas supply to the entire Bristol area.

"The task of laying out and constructing the new mains was the responsibility of Eastern division's gas transmission and distribution forces. Two stream crossings and three railroad right-of-ways were involved in the construction, each of which posed a different problem.

"Several types of trench diggers were used and in the stream and railroad crossings, various methods were used. In one stream crossing the main was laid under the stream bed, the crane working in the stream proper. One railroad crossing was tunneled. The job was completed on schedule."

NEW GROUP AIMS TO "SELL" AMERICA

By Ed Haack

I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Mar. 16—(INS)—Pennsylvania is a prime market today for a new group aiming to "sell" Americans on the superiority of the competitive enterprise system.

Number One salesman of the organization, tabbed Americans for the Competitive Enterprise System, Inc., is Dr. Theodore A. Distler, energetic president of Franklin and Marshall College.

Distler and his associates are fearful that every business and profession will soon come under government operation or control unless the American people are alerted to the danger of the trend toward socialism.

"Many groups have taken steps to combat this trend but with no great success because their efforts are confined to lobbying or to circularizing business men or farmers or professional leaders who are already "sold," Distler claims.

"No one is fighting socialism or even communism at a grass roots level," he asserted.

ACES 'Operation Pennsylvania' will blueprint the proposed future national operation, Distler said.

"We on the side of enterprise have been talking to ourselves," he asserted. "Hundreds of thousands of dollars and millions of man hours have been spent convincing ourselves at various meetings, in sending voluminous literature and making long winded speeches without effect."

ACES intends to put across its message by direct contact with work-a-day citizens in their homes and at their jobs. Hundreds of volunteers drawn from the organizations supporting ACES will be mobilized and trained.

This army will be deployed through neighborhoods in every type of collectivism.

The message will point up the superior living standards enjoyed in the United States, the dependence of wage increases on increased productivity with a fair profit for those providing the tools.

ACES will not endorse any political party, candidate or legislation. It will not be anti-labor. Its organizers represent both major political parties, according to Distler.

Aiding Distler is Curtin Winsor, a Philadelphia attorney. Winsor is the great-grandson of Andrew Curtin, governor of the commonwealth during the Civil War.

"Speakers for the door-to-door salesmanship will come from all walks of life," Winsor said.

"Men in overalls will be sent to the homes of other men in overalls to get our program across effectively. Our speakers will be trained to answer any questions that may be asked. We will furnish speakers for any type of group—women's, patriotic, fraternal, religious, farm, labor and professional."

Winsor said ACES believes the American competitive system is one in which the individual is free to conduct his business or to work at the job of his choice in any manner so long as he does not interfere with another person's right to do the same.

"Inherent in the system are racial equality, religious freedom, the right to bargain collectively, private ownership of the means of production and the subordination of the government to God and the individual," he said.

ACES' board of directors is now composed mainly of business and professional people. But it will be expanded in the near future too, according to Winsor.

AA Test Will Reveal If You Are 'Alcoholic'

Who is an alcoholic?

AA frequently uses a series of questions to help people find an answer to that one. The questions are based on a test developed at Johns Hopkins University to help decide if a patient is an alcoholic.

Here they are:

- 1-Do you lose time from work due to drinking?
- 2-Is drinking making your home life unhappy?
- 3-Do you drink because you are shy with other people?
- 4-Is drinking affecting your reputation?
- 5-Have you ever felt remorse, after drinking?
- 6-Have you gotten into financial difficulty as the result of drinking?
- 7-Do you turn to lower companions and an inferior environment when drinking?
- 8-Does your drinking make you careless of your family's welfare?
- 9-Has your ambition decreased since drinking?
- 10-Do you crave a drink at a definite time daily?
- 11-Do you want a drink next morning?
- 12-Does drinking cause you to have difficulty in sleeping?
- 13-Has your efficiency decreased since drinking?
- 14-Is drinking jeopardizing your job or business?
- 15-Do you drink to escape worries or trouble?
- 16-Do you drink alone?
- 17-Do you ever have a complete loss of memory as a result of drinking?
- 18-Has your physician ever treated you for drinking?
- 19-Do you drink to build up your self confidence?
- 20-Have you ever been to a hospital or institution on account of drinking?

If you answer yes to any one question there is a definite warning that you may be alcoholic.

If you answer yes to any two, chances are that you are an alcoholic.

If you answer yes to three or more, you are definitely an alcoholic.

CLEANED BY SCRIBES

Business and pleasure were combined at the meeting of Eagle Fire Company, New Hope, last week, when 100 persons attended the organization's annual banquet. The turkey dinner was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Guests included Chief Kramer, of the Lambertville (N. J.) Fire Department and three former company chiefs. Principal speakers were assistant County Detective William L. Stackhouse, Doylestown, formerly county fire marshal, and the Rev. Eli F. Wismer, Jr., pastor of the Presbyterian church, New Hope. Motion pictures were shown by Hampton Hayes.

The business session was devoted to an election, results of which are: president, Frank Faust; vice president, Hampton Hayes; secretary, Wesley Tease; assistant secretary, Johnston Hilliard; treasurer, Watson R. Janney; directors, Thomas Magill, Harvey Funk, Frank Kerwin, Johnston Hilliard and Hampton Hayes.

Chief, Paul Balderston; first assistant, Paul Markey; second assistant, Leon Dillon; third assistant, Dewey Ent; chief engineer, Frank Faust; first assistant, Harvey Funk; second assistant, Walter Everett; third assistant, Raymond Faust, and janitor, Frank Walker. The annual roll call showed one life member, three honorary members, 28 active members and 20 contributing members.

A group of sandlot baseball players on the old "Y" grounds at Lansdale on Saturday found the missing safe that burglars carried out of the rear entrance of the Allentown-Bethlehem Gas Company offices in Quakertown some time after midnight, Friday.

The contents of the safe, approximately $450 in cash and the route books of the company, were missing. The 700-pound safe had been burned open and contents removed.

When the youngsters found the safe in a secluded corner of the "Y" grounds, they reported to Lansdale police, who in turn contacted State Police at Quakertown and Chief of Police Newton B. Rapp, of Quakertown, who are investigating.

Assistant District Attorney Donald W. Vanartsdalen will speak at a meeting of the Bucks County Magistrates' Association this evening in the court house at Doylestown.

Here's Informal Supper For Easy Entertaining

Looking for a simple way to entertain? A waffle or pancake supper may be your answer. In all their many guises, these two favorites create a friendly, informal atmosphere enjoyed by so many.

Here are a few pancake and waffle suggestions made by Reba Stages, home economics expert. For one variation she suggests sprinkling the top of the batter with grated orange rind just before the waffles start to cook. Serve these orange pancakes with maple syrup and plenty of crisp golden bacon.

Or for especially crisp waffles, substitute orange juice for half the milk required in the recipe. The bacon may be cooked right inside the waffle. Cut the bacon into fine pieces and add to batter or top the batter with whole slices. Chopped cooked ham may be added to the batter, too. Pancakes or waffles may always be temptingly served with slices of ham or plump sausage patties or links.

Especially appealing are sizzling sausage links and apple waffles or pancakes. Add diced raw apple to the batter and prepare as usual. With ham or bacon waffles, include a mixed vegetable salad, a beverage and there's a complete supper or lunch menu.

Pancakes, also, may be appealingly spread with colorful jelly or preserves such as cherry or blackberry, rolled, then generously sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Or cream cheese may be combined with strawberry preserves and rolled into a marvelous treat.

For more smiles and good health A & P Service for Homemakers suggests a steaming Beefsteak Pie for this Sunday's dinner. To prepare this savory dish cut two pounds of rump, flank or chuck steak into two-inch pieces. Cover meat and bones with water and simmer about one hour. Have on hand one half-cup of chopped onions and two cups of sliced cooked potatoes. Put a layer of meat and onion into a baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add a layer of sliced potatoes and dot with butter. Alternate steak and potato layers until dish is full. Thicker gravy with browned flour and pour into dish. Cover top with pastry brush with beaten egg and bake in a hot oven for about thirty minutes. There is ample here for six people, especially if you add a lettuce salad with French dressing and a dish of glazed carrots on the side.

For that happy ending try Devil's Food Cake with orange frosting and a cup of the family's favorite beverage.

Child Who Gobbles His Food

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

ALTHOUGH the usual eating problems parents write about relate to dawdling over food or refusing to eat certain essential foods, an occasional child, especially after the age of eight or ten, will bolt his food. Often this child is described as eating his food in a few minutes and then rushing out to play. Sometimes his haste is encouraged by a playmate outside waiting for him or calling to him to hurry.

In many of these cases, if the child is told he may not leave the table before the end of a certain period, say twenty minutes, in case the rest of the family eat leisurely, this child knowing he can't go quickly will just choose to eat more slowly.

Bolts His Food

But not all cases in which a child bolts his food are so simple or so easily corrected. In some instances, the parent or other adult may eat very rapidly, and do it for no immediate purpose, but just because of jitteriness. It may be safe to say the average person eats in great haste. Anybody is likely to do so when the atmosphere is charged with confusion, excitement or tensions.

Dear Dr. Myers:

"I have a son 13 years old who talks all the time he is eating and eats as fast as he can and then just sits at the table and continues to talk.

"He is full of gas all the time, is constipated and often loses his meal which comes up in lumps of food. Is there any way to get around this situation without spoiling every meal, as I am afraid he is storing bad health for later years? There are two younger children who might follow the same example."

Checked by Physician

How I answered her: You should have your son checked by your physician. Not being a medical expert I could not give you medical advice. But there are plenty of published scientific studies which indicate that hampering emotions impair digestion and related functions. Just plain common sense would indicate that calmness and serenity are favorable to good functioning of the entire alimentary tract.

Almost surely you have been nagging at that boy about his rapid eating. Quit it. Work on yourself and the rest of the family for relaxation and happy companionship at meals. Perhaps you could induce this lad to tell some jokes, and you parents might have on hand a few good ones for each mealtime.

Maybe this son feels he does not stand in the family as well as the younger children do and that he must keep talking to prevent them from winning attention. Anything you and Dad can do to make this boy feel more worth while and secure in the family should help.

USE EXTRA FREEZER SPACE TO STORE ANY PRE-COOKED FOODS

By Miss Frances Vannoy
Home Economics Extension Rep.
When the home freezer is not full of meats, vegetables, and fruits, the space may be used for precooked foods. So plan to set aside a day to bake a quantity of food for the freezer.

Bread, cake, pie, and cookies are especially good frozen. Bake as usual, cool thoroughly, and wrap in locker paper. Cooling is very important. If you frost the cake, use an uncooked butter icing or fudge icing and freeze before wrapping. Pies may be frozen baked or unbaked. Fresh fruit, mince, pumpkin, lemon, and chocolate chiffon pies freeze well. Meringue does not freeze satisfactorily so make it after taking pie from the freezer.

Leave the top crust whole on unbaked pies, making the gashes when ready to bake. Always freeze pies before wrapping. Paper or aluminum foil pie pans are convenient to use.

Cooked foods, such as chili, spaghetti sauce, chicken a la king, or baked beans must be handled carefully. Foods which require long cooking may be prepared in quantities large enough to take care of immediate needs with some for freezing. However, that which is to be frozen must be cooked quickly, packaged when cold, and frozen at once. Plastic or waxed containers are convenient for these products. To use these frozen cooked foods re-heat in top of a double boiler. Do not thaw before heating.

Potatoes, lettuce or other salad greens, cooked egg white, and mayonnaise are some foods which do not freeze successfully. Dishes made with milk may curdle. Use less seasoning, especially cloves and black pepper, in foods to be frozen.

Because the storage life of cooked foods is relatively short, freeze only that which you can use within a period of two months.
